Our Questions

1. Are there synergies arising from having resolution and deposit insurance functions in the same institution?
2. Are there conflicts of interest in certain types of deposit insurance systems? How do they get resolved?
3. Are there issues related to sharing of information with other safety-net players?
4. Are there issues related to access to funding, use of resources?
5. Going forward, what are the costs and benefits of unifying models worldwide?

A Nasty Bonus Question for Deposit Insurers with Resolution Powers

- Prior to the crisis, failures of systemic banks were seen as a problem for governments. Can deposit insurers serve as the main resolution authority for systemic banks, when this has never been the case in the past and when the decisions taken to deal with a systemic bank will affect the country as a whole?

Now, let's hear from you!
